

Finally!

Our schedules are ready for you! Log into your profile at www.myvolunteepage.com to sign up for your shifts today! Your volunteer profile will look a little different to you this year. Now you can upload a nice picture of yourself, print off your schedule and link your schedule to your Facebook profile! Can't volunteer this year... no worries, just let us know and we'll make your profile inactive for the year. Have friends that want to volunteer too? Get them to register as a volunteer on our website, then they can choose their own schedule!

Due to new government regulations, all of our volunteers are required to have "Accessible customer training" this year and every year moving forward. You will only have to do this once. Please read our manual found on our website at www.soundofmusic.ca/volunteers, you will find it on the right-hand side. In the manual there are links to the government website explaining what it is all about. This training is mandatory for everyone. We will have a book onsite at the Volunteer Centre for you to sign when you come in for your first shift. You only need to record your signature once. If you have received this training through your place of employment or through another organization, it is transferable and you do not have to read our training guide (even though ours is much nicer ;))

Let's get ready to put on the biggest show yet!!!
